NICK MILETI

. . . An Overnight Hit On Broadway

One of Nick Mileti's favorite quotes is, "I spent twenty nine years to become an overnight hit on Broadway." Perhaps it appeals to Mileti because it very well applies to him.

It has been five years now since the enthusiastic attorney came bursting onto the Northeastern Ohio sports scene. He made his entry with the purchase of the Arena and the Barons. Ironically, those two acquisitions which marked the beginning, do not figure in the future here. Things have changed. But not Mileti.

Born of immigrant parents, Nick knew early in life what it meant to work. Holding three jobs at once most of his growing years, Nick viewed work as an opportunity. "I have always worked hard," Mileti has said. "That is the strength of America. If you work hard, you can get ahead."

Nick has astonished some onlookers of the area sports scene with his accomplishments in the past five year period. Some fear he has done too much too fast.

"If we could have chosen the timing for acquiring all of these things, we certainly would have spaced them in more orderly intervals," Mileti stated. "However, to do things, you must be prepared to act when the opportunity exists. Otherwise, you just stand around and complain, as people did for years, that there was no major league basketball or hockey here, the Indians were leaving town and the Arena was not what the fans of this area wanted or deserved."

"That's where we were five years ago," Nick continued. "We saw needs which, in our judgment, needed to be filled. That is what the past five years were all about. Now our job is to turn each of these enterprises into something in which we can all be proud."

Three seasons ago the Cavaliers were started as an expansion team in the National Basketball Association. Mileti and Cavaliers General Manager/Coach Bill Fitch have put together a club which has shown improvement each campaign. The 1973-74 edition of the Cavaliers is working to make their last season in the Cleveland Arena their best year to date.

Nick Mileti is the first to admit that much remains to be done. However, in five years he has created two major league franchises and prevented a third from leaving town. His Coliseum, to be ready next season, will provide a spectacular new setting in which the Cavaliers and Crusaders will perform. And, he brought local ownership to Cleveland media when he purchased WWWE and its FM affiliate WWWM from NBC in 1972.

Not bad for an overnight hit on Broadway.

BILL FITCH

GENERAL MANAGER AND COACH

"We're still growing but we've lost some of our baby teeth and our bite should be felt a little more around the National Basketball Association this year," commented Cavaliers General Manager/ Coach Bill Fitch. The Cavaliers head coach is in his fourth year of directing the on court fortunes of Ohio's only pro basketball team. For the first time, Fitch also adds the general manager's duties to his job.

Fitch, the only coach the Cavaliers have ever had and the only mentor from the N.B.A.'s 1970 expansion to still be around, has molded together a team which has shown improvement each season. "Both Nick (Cleveland owner, Nick Mileti) and I set a five year plan to develop players and built a contending playoff team in an orderly way. We haven't wavered from that and hopefully our goal of making the playoffs can be reached a year early," Fitch said.

The Cavaliers roster is a unique combination which has a touch of maturity and experience added to a fine nucleus of young talent. The Cleveland guard duo of Lenny Wilkens and Austin Carr is an example of that combination. Wilkens, set for his 14th year in the league, combines with Carr, who is in his third year in the NBA, to give the club one of the loop's top backcourt tandems. They each averaged 20.5 points an outing last year to pace the club offensively, and were both among the league's top 20 in scoring.

Cleveland's third season in basketball's best league saw continued improvement in both record and competitiveness. The record book shows Cleveland with nine additional victories which gives the club an over 100 percent improvement since their initial campaign. The Cavaliers have the best overall record of the three teams from the 1970 expansion and also have defeated every other club.

With veterans Barry Clemens, Dwight Davis, Bobby Smith, Cornell Warner, Bob Rule, and Jim Cleamons returning and joined by first round draft pick, Jim Brewer, a forward-center from the University of Minnesota, the Cavaliers should continue the growth pattern that the team has maintained throughout their first three seasons.

With the addition of the General Managers duties, Fitch is now also responsible for all the many facets that are involved in running a major league basketball club both on and off the courts.

Directing the fortunes of a basketball team is nothing new to Fitch who coached over 12 years in the collegiate ranks before joining the Cavaliers. He posted a 187-111 mark which included winning records at every stop.

Bill, who was born in Cedar Rapids, Iowa stayed home to go to college starring in basketball and baseball at Coe College in his home town. Fitch was awarded a B.S. degree in Physical Education from Coe in 1954.

From 1956-58, he was the head baseball and assistant basketball coach at Creighton University. While there, he coached St. Louis Cardinals star pitcher Bob Gibson in both sports. In 1958, Bill received his M.A. degree in Educational Psychology (one that's come in quite handy in his three years with the Cavaliers) from Creighton and returned to Coe for his first head basketball coaching position. In four at his Alma Mater, he posted a 49-37 record.

Next came a stop at North Dakota University, where he led his clubs to the NCAA College Division finals for three consecutive years. Those three teams were 68-15 with the final one in 1967 ranked third nationally by UPI.

He moved to Bowling Green in the summer of 1967. That year he took a club that had finished last the previous campaign and led it to the Mid-American Conference crown (10-2 league mark and 18-7 overall) and then lost by only one point in the NCAA Tournament to Marquette.

His final collegiate post before coming to Cleveland was for two years at the University of Minnesota. His first Gopher club, picked in pre-season polls for the basement, finished fifth in the Big Ten and had a 12-12 record. His final collegiate squad finished with a 13-11 record. Among the players that Fitch recruited for Minnesota was the Cavaliers number one draft choice this season, Jim Brewer.

Fitch, his wife Margaret and his three daughters live in the Cleveland suburb of Bay Villa

JIMMY RODGERS

ASSISTANT COACH AND CHIEF SCOUT

If there is anyone who travels more than NBA players and coaches, it would have to be each clubs chief scout. The Cavaliers Jimmy Rodgers is in his third season of serving Cleveland as both assistant coach and chief scout.

During the season, Rodgers criss-crosses the country scouting the other N.B.A. clubs and once December comes, he becomes very busy checking on the nations collegiate talent. Jim's work helps in determining the Cavaliers selections in the annual NBA draft. In addition to scouting, he also assists Bill Fitch with the coaching duties when he is able to join the team.

Jimmy was a three-year regular on the University of Iowa basketball team. After graduation, he became an assistant to Cavaliers G.M./Coach Bill Fitch at North Dakota University. He then succeeded Fitch at North Dakota and in three years, Rodger's clubs posted a 39 win and 35 loss record.

Rodgers was then an assistant at the University of Arkansas for a year before coming to the Cavaliers and rejoining Bill Fitch in June of 1971.

Jimmy, his wife Donna, and their two sons, Matt and Tim live in Bay Village.

RON CULP

TRAINER

Cavaliers Trainer Ron Culp ranks with G.M./Coach Bill Fitch and players Bobby Smith and John Warren in longevity with Cleveland's N.B.A. club. This is Ron's fourth season of seeing to the Cavaliers training and traveling problems.

In addition to keeping the players healthy, Culp is also responsible for getting the players and coaches from city to city over the N.B.A.'s 82 game slate.

Culp received his undergraduate degree from Bowling Green State University in 1968 and then spent a year as a trainer and college instructor at Baldwin Wallace College before joining the Cavaliers early in the club's history. He was not unfamiliar to Bill Fitch, having served as a training assistant at Bowling Green when Fitch was the basketball mentor there.

Ron, who lives in Rocky River with his wife Marilyn, has done graduate work in physical therapy at both Bowling Green and Case Western Reserve Universities.

Cavaliers Radio and Television

Joe Tait, for the fourth straight season is describing the action of Cavaliers games on radio. For the second season the Cavaliers games are being carried on WWWE.

Eighteen Cleveland Cavaliers games are being telecasted by WUAB-TV, Channel 43, Play-by-Play is being done by Joe Tait and Gib Shanley and the color commentary is being provided by former Cleveland Cavaliers assistant coach Jim Lessig.

JIM BREWER

AGE: 21 HGT: 6'9" WGT: 220

DATE OF BIRTH:
December 3, 1951

COLLEGE:
Minnesota, 1973

First Round Selection
1973 College Draft

Former University of Minnesota and U.S. Olympic star Jim Brewer was the Cavaliers first round draft choice and the second player selected overall in the 1973 National Basketball Association draft. Cleveland received the right to pick second in the draft when they traded John Johnson, Rick Roberson and their first round draft choice to Portland for the Trailblazers first and third round selections.

The 6'9" forward-center was an All-Big Ten choice as a senior and was tabbed as the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player after his junior year. The Gophers won the Big Ten title in Jim's junior campaign and went to the NCAA Tournament while the past season Minnesota was invited to the National Invitational Tournament.

He averaged 13.5 points and 12.1 rebounds during his collegiate career. Brewer's top season average was a 16.6 mark as a sophomore, which dropped his final two campaigns as the Gophers went to a playing style which stressed defense and ball control.

Jim was recruited for Minnesota by Cavaliers G.M./Coach, Bill Fitch when he was head mentor at Minnesota. Brewer, who is single, spent the summer in New York City, where he played on the championship team in the Ruckers League. That team also included teammate Austin Carr.

AUSTIN CARR

AGE: 25 HGT: 6'4" WGT: 200

DATE OF BIRTH:
March 10, 1948

COLLEGE:
Notre Dame, 1971

First Round Selection
1971 College Draft

Austin Carr begins his third professional campaign coming off a sophomore pro season which saw him set four club records. After a rookie season marred by injury, Carr played in all 82 contests last year, the only returning veteran who appeared in every Cleveland contest.

The 6'4" Notre Dame graduate set Cavaliers records for points (1,685), field goals made (702), field goals attempted (1,575) and minutes played (3,097). Cleveland's first draft choice in 1971 and the League's number one selection that year, Carr's 20.5 average led the club and established a new Cleveland standard.

The third-year pro appeared in the final 33 games of his rookie campaign and his 115 straight games is now tops on the club. He has a career high of 40 points against Houston last year which was also the leading output by a Cavalier for the 1972-73 season. Teaming with Lenny Wilkens in the club's backcourt, this tandem of veteran and young pro gives the Cavaliers one of the top guard duos in basketball.

The past off-season was probably the most important for Carr because it marks the first summer since graduating from college that he has not been recovering from an injury. He made excellent use of it as he played on a team in the New York City Rucker's League which included new teammate Jim Brewer and won the championship.

A native of Washington, D.C., Austin spends his off-seasons in both Washington and New York.

JIM CLEAMONS

AGE: 24 HGT: 6'4" WGT: 185

DATE OF BIRTH:
September 13, 1949

COLLEGE:
Ohio State, 1971

Obtained through trade with Los Angeles, August, 1972.

Third year guard, Jim Cleamons is returning for his second season in the Cavaliers Wine and Gold uniform. The former Ohio State backcourter came to the club shortly before the start of last year in a trade with the Los Angeles Lakers and gradually worked his way into the number three guard spot.

After playing just over 200 minutes in his season with the Lakers, Cleamons played over 1400 minutes with the Cavaliers and showed improvement as the season progressed. He averaged 5.7 points an outing, and despite his limited playing time, finished fourth in assists with 205. After a poor rookie season in the field goal percentage department, Cleamons improved his floor mark to .454 percent last year.

In two professional seasons, he has worked along side four of the top guards in basketball. Last year Jim played with Lenny Wilkens and Austin Carr, while his rookie campaign he worked with Jerry West and Gail Goodrich.

He is an Ohio native, having played his high school basketball in Columbus and then was a three year starter at Ohio State. As a Buckeye, he averaged 18.5 points a game over his career. He was captain of the O.S.U. team as a senior and then was the Lakers number one choice in the 1971 draft.

Jim, who is single, spends the season in Cleveland and returns to Columbus for the summer.

BARRY CLEMENS

AGE: 30 HGT: 6'7" WGT: 219

DATE OF BIRTH:
May 1, 1943

COLLEGE:
Ohio Wesleyan, 1965

Obtained through trade
with Seattle, August, 1972

Providing experience up front for the Cavaliers is eight year NBA veteran forward, Barry Clemens. The Ohio Wesleyan graduate is one of the best pure shooters on the club and proved it as he led Cleveland in field goal percentage with a 51.6 mark.

He also proved his ability as a one-on-one player in the N.B.A.'s annual one-on-one contest the past year, making it to the finals before losing to Portland's Geoff Petrie. In route to the finals, Clemens defeated Seattle's John Brisker and Spencer Haywood, Nate Williams of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings and Bob Love of the Chicago Bulls.

Despite not being a starter, Clemens' ability at coming off the bench is extremely valuable and has earned the 6'7" forward over 1,000 minutes of playing time for each of the last six seasons.

Originally drafted by New York, where he played one season, Barry spent three years in both Chicago and Seattle before coming to the Cavaliers last year in the trade which also brought Lenny Wilkens to Cleveland in exchange for Butch Beard.

He is one of the native Ohioans who is now playing basketball for Ohio's only pro basketball team. In addition to playing collegiately at Ohio Wesleyan, Barry played his prep basketball in Xenia, Ohio. He, his wife Vivian and children make their year round home in the Cleveland area.

AGE: 24 HGT: 6'8" WGT: 220

DATE OF BIRTH:
October 11, 1949

COLLEGE:
Houston, 1972

First Round Selection
1972 College Draft

Dwight Davis capped his rookie campaign with the Cleveland Cavaliers by being named to the N.B.A. All-Rookie Team. Davis is the second Cavalier to receive that honor, following Austin Carr who made the 1972 edition of the first year elite squad. The 6'8" former Houston University great was the Cavaliers first pick in the 1972 draft and the third player selected overall in the annual selection of collegiate talent.

Working at the strong forward spot for the Cavaliers, Dwight averaged 9.4 points and seven rebounds an outing while playing a little over 26 minutes a contest. Davis missed just one of Cleveland's 82 contests in his rookie season.

His high game was a 25 point effort against Atlanta. The former Houston All-American also had the dubious distinction of leading the club in personal fouls with 297 and he tied the departed Rick Roberson in disqualifications with five.

He shot almost 80 percent from the free throw line but needs to improve his shooting from the field after connecting on only 39 percent of his action shots last season. Davis, who makes his off season home in Houston, spent the summer on a weight program to develop his strength. At Houston, Dwight finished second in both career scoring and rebounding behind Elvin Hayes now of the Capital Bullets.

DATE OF BIRTH:

Second Round Selection
1971 College Draft

Steve Patterson, former UCLA center, has seen action at both center and forward in his two years in the Cavaliers Wine and Gold uniform. He returns to again battle for a front court spot with Cleveland.

Despite limited playing time in his two NBA campaigns, Steve has done a good job on the boards for the time he has played. He has cornered 456 caroms in only 1,485 minutes of playing time, or a rebound for just over every three minutes. Ironically, Steve has pulled down 228 rebounds each season.

His personal rebound high was 16 in his rookie season. That total came against Portland, and against Sidney Wicks who Patterson played along side collegiately.

Steve, who is from California, spent the summer playing on the UCLA Alumni Team in the Los Angeles Summer Pro League. Patterson also reduced the number of single players on the Cavaliers when he was married in mid-August.

DATE OF BIRTH:
June 29, 1944

COLLEGE:

Obtained via trade with Philadelphia for
Dave Sorenson, 1972

Bob Rule joined the Cavaliers a month into last season, coming from Philadelphia in exchange for Dave Sorenson. He had played sparingly with the 76'ers after missing the club's training camp and the first two weeks of the season.

The 6'9" Colorado State product has moved into the ninety-ninth spot on the N.B.A.'s All-Time career scoring list with 6,821 points. Bob is starting his seventh season in basketball's best league. Although in the 1970-71 season, Rule played only the first four games before suffering an achilles tendon injury which kept him out the rest of the year.

Bob averaged just under three points a contest last year after joining the Cavaliers. He has a career average of 18.1 points, and in his 376 league games, he has pulled down 3,230 rebounds. The 1968-69 and 1969-70 seasons were his best in point production, with Bob scoring 1,965 points in each season.

BOBBY SMITH

DATE OF BIRTH:
February 26, 1946

COLLEGE:
Tulsa, 1969

Selected from San Diego
in 1970 Expansion Draft

One of only two original Cavaliers still with the Club, Bobby Smith will put on the Cleveland uniform for a fourth straight year as he enters his fifth N.B.A. campaign. He joined the Cavaliers through the expansion draft from San Diego after being the Rockets number one pick out of Tulsa in 1969.

In four seasons of pro basketball, "Bingo" has scored 3550 points with exactly 3000 of them coming in the Cavaliers Wine and Gold uniform. That total is tops among players still with the club. His three year Cleveland average is 12.9, which includes an 8.2 average last year after marks of 15.2 and 15.0 for his first two years.

Last year, Bobby spent most of the season coming off the bench, but in his three seasons he has seen considerable starting duty for the Cavaliers. Joining Barry Clemens, the two provide the Cavaliers with outstanding shooting strength and experience at the small forward spot. Smith has worked hardest at improving the defensive part of his game and came on strong over the last month of the 1972-73 season.

The 6'6" Smith makes his year round home in Cleveland with his wife Mary and daughter Monique.

DATE OF BIRTH:
August 12, 1948

COLLEGE:
Jackson State, 1970

Signed as free agent
November, 1972

Cornell Warner, 6'9" center, was signed by the Cavaliers in early November last season, shortly after his release by the Buffalo Braves. The remainder of the 1972/73 season, Warner proved to be a welcome addition in the pivot. It also was the first time he was called on to play primarily in the middle after spending most of his playing time at forward in his two plus years with Buffalo.

A second round draft choice at Buffalo in 1970, Warner's rebounding statistics were impressive last year, as the Jackson State product collected 7.6 rebounds a contest the past campaign, despite averaging just under 20 minutes playing time a game. On the point production side, Cornell has averaged just under six points an outing during his three year professional career.

He set a personal single game rebound mark last year, when he pulled down 20 caroms against the Atlanta Hawks. Another highlight of his first campaign with Cleveland was his game winning slam dunk of a rebound to provide the margin of victory in the Cavaliers 100-98 January win over Golden State.

Warner, who is married, is one of the Cavaliers who make their year round home in the Cleveland area.

JOHN WARREN

DATE OF BIRTH:
January 7, 1947

COLLEGE:
St. John's, 1969

Selected from New York
in 1970 Expansion Draft

Along with Bobby Smith, John Warren is one of only two players who are wearing the Cavaliers Wine and Gold uniform for the fourth straight year. Warren came to the Cavaliers in the expansion draft from New York, after being the Knicks number one choice in 1969.

John is the type of player who is always ready when called upon. He joins with Lenny Wilkens, Austin Carr and Jim Cleamons to give Cleveland a strong unit of veteran guards returning from top to bottom.

In three years with the Cavaliers, Warren has been an excellent free throw shooter, connecting on 247 of 294 attempts for an 84 percent mark. John also has the dubious distinction of setting Cleveland season marks for most personal fouls (299) and disqualifications (13). Both records were set in the Cavaliers first campaign, the 1970-71 season.

John, his wife Rhea and son John Jr., split the year between Cleveland and John's native New York City. Warren is returning to college during the off-season to obtain a degree in Pharmacy.

LENNY WILKENS

AGE: 35 HGT: 6'1" WGT: 187

DATE OF BIRTH:
October 28, 1937

COLLEGE:
Providence, 1960

Obtained through trade
with Seattle, August, 1972

Last year was the first in a Cavaliers uniform for Lenny Wilkens but the veteran guard had one of the best campaigns of his thirteen year National Basketball Association career, averaging 20.5 points and 8.3 assists per outing.

Wilken's outstanding campaign helped him as he continued his climb up the All-Time NBA list in several categories. He's thirteenth overall and sixth among active players in career scoring and his other top marks show him fourth in assists, seventh in minutes played and personal fouls, eighth in free throws made and attempted, and tenth in games played.

Lenny's 8.3 assists average last year placed him second in the NBA, the fifth time in the last six years he has finished in that spot with the other season showing the veteran guard as the league leader.

He needs just 506 assists to move into second on the All-Time list. His 16,139 points means he will need only 821 points this season to pass both Paul Arizin and Bob Cousy on the all-time list. And last year was only the second time in his career that he had averaged over 20 points a contest.

The veteran guard set Cavalier season marks for assists (628), free throws made (394) and free throws attempted (476). Before coming to the Cavaliers, Wilkens played eight seasons for the St. Louis Hawks and four with the Seattle Supersonics. For the last three of his four seasons at Seattle, he was the Supersonics coach. He is the Cavaliers captain and player representative. Teaming with Austin Carr, he gives the Cavaliers one of the strongest backcourt tandems in the NBA.

Wilkens, his wife Marilyn and children will spend the season in Cleveland and return to their home in Seattle for the off-season.

Fourth Round Selection
in 1973 College Draft

The Cavaliers picked up their first seven-footer when they selected Luke Witte in the fourth round of the 1973 National Basketball Association college draft. He is one of three former Ohio State players on the club's pre-season roster, as he joins Cleveland's 1973 second round choice Allan Hornyak and returning veteran guard, Jim Cleamons.

The 7' former Buckeye center averaged 13.7 points and 8.3 rebounds a contest in his senior year. His best campaign was as a sophomore, when he averaged 18.9 points a game and 12.7 rebounds. Luke followed that up with junior totals of 16.9 points and 12.6 rebounds an outing.

Witte was on the All-Big Ten first unit as a sophomore and was a second team choice as a junior. His 1,211 career points at O.S.U. puts him eleventh on the Buckeye's All-time scoring list. He attended Marlington High School outside of Alliance, Ohio, before going to Ohio State.

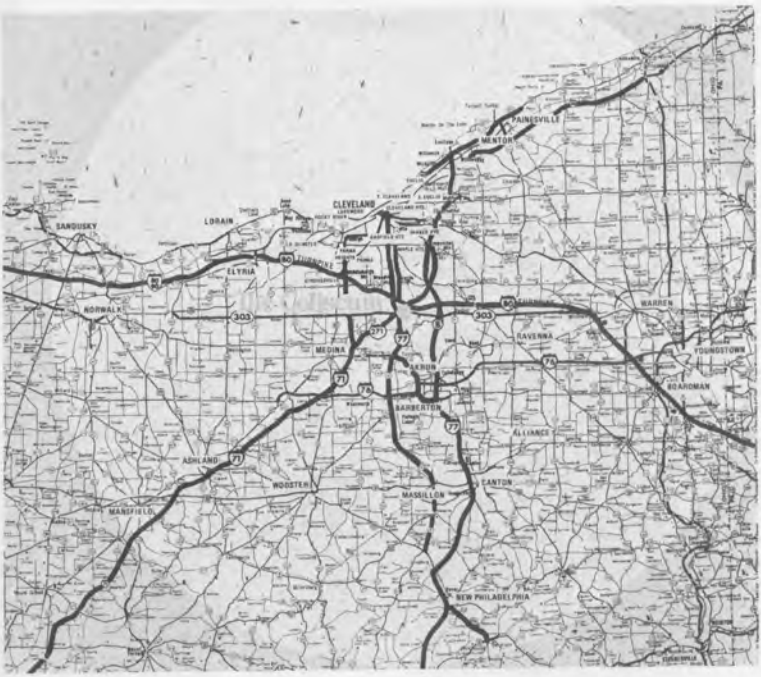
THE COLISEUM . . .
COMING NEXT SEASON

Fans next season will watch the Cavaliers and Crusaders in style. The Coliseum will be ready for the 1974-75 season and what a setting for NBA and WHA action.

The Coliseum stands in the center of Northeastern Ohio's population. Over 5,000,000 people live less than an hour's drive from the site. The building is situated on a parcel of land which exceeds 100 acres in size. Approximately 8 acres will be required for the structure . . . the remaining acreage for landscaping and parking completely surrounds the facility.



Six thousand plus parking spaces provide convenience to all who come. Located on the northwest corner of the I271-Route 303 interchange, it's just a matter of "spilling off" the interchange onto the site. The Ohio Turnpike borders the location on the north.

Seating for hockey is 18,000 . . . for basketball 19,500 . . . and, for special shows, over 20,000. Events number more than 300 annually. Approximately one-third sports . . . one-third family entertainment . . . and one-third cultural attractions and concerts.

Target date for completion of The Coliseum is September 1, 1974.
